SACHS CHANDLER DEAD.

Senator Zach. Chandler died suddenly at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago last Saturday. His name has long been familiar to the public in connection with the politics of the country. Born in New Hampshire in 1813, he was sixty-six years old at his death. Receiving a good education, he went west in his youth and became a merchant of Detroit, Michigan. He was made Mayor of Detroit in '51, and was elected U.S. Senator in '57. With the exception of last term he has ever since represented Michigan in the Senate.

Chandler was a man of wonderful force and energy. He was a shrewd politician, but too bitter a partisan to be a statesman. "Stalwart" Republican through and through, of strong convictions and combative disposition, he was fierce and unsparing in his denunciation of "rebels" and Democrats. Indeed, to the hot headed, brave old man all Democrats were rebels in spirit.

Chandler was a "good hater" and had hosts of enemies, as well as troops of friends. There were faults in his character, but none that his virtues did not overshadow. He was a prominent figure in the political field, and will not be forgotten for a generation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The charges of assault and battery and malicious mischief made against Holmes by Cummings, the gate-keeper on the Dayton and Mason Valley toll-road, have all been dismissed, the prosecution failing to substantiate their charges. Both claimants have put men with shotguns at the gate, each with the object of restraining the other from collecting toll. The unfortunate traveler who goes that road may have to sustain the burden of the proof in the form of a charge of shot in his interior.

In Carson last Saturday evening the Grantreception committee held a meeting, and on casting up the accounts they found that there remained a deficit of $232.81. Some one suggested that each member of the committee be assessed five dollars to pay off the indebtedness. The members of the committee, with one accord, at once resigned.

A copy of Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s "American Newspaper Directory" for 1879 has been received at this office. The work contains a full list of all the newspapers in the United States and Canada, giving the population of every place in which a paper is published. It is a most useful book for advertisers and publishers.

In Brooklyn, New York, the other day, a falling rocket stick struck a woman in the eye and penetrated to the brain, killing her instantly. This singular death shows the necessity of caution in firing rockets, so that no one may be injured in their descent.

The New York State election takes place to-morrow. News of the result will be looked for with great interest. The Republicans seem to have the chances in their favor and will probably carry the State.

Otto Greenhood has retired from the Carson Appeal, and Sam Davis has taken his place as local editor. Wells Drury, late of the Gold Hill News, succeeds Sam Davis on the Chronicle.

Trains to-day commenced running over the first section of the Nevada Central railroad, from Battle Mountain to Mount Springs, a distance of twenty-one miles.

The Nevada Bank has reduced its capital from $10,000,000 to $3,000,000, in consequence of the increased taxation under the new constitution of California.

The statement that Chinese merchants were about to establish a line of steamers between this country and China proves entirely unfounded.

On the Oakland track next Saturday, St. Julian will try to beat his own record of 2:12 1/2.

"Fighting Joe" Hooker is dead. He was one of the bravest and most admired generals of the war.

There are about 350 men employed at present on the construction of the Nevada Central Railway, and over 800 animals. There are ten of Mason's graders, many hand scrapers, two engines and over forty cars.

STATE AND COAST NEWS.

The Grand Jury of San Francisco have found a true bill against Charles DeYoung for assault to murder.

A fish dealer at Stockton received a sturgeon on Thursday eight feet nine inches in length and weighing 278 pounds. It was caught at Jersey landing on the San Joaquin river.

An eight year old son of Mr. Oliver of Berryessa Valley was shot last Sunday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun, from the effects of which he died in a few hours afterward.

The Alturas, Modoc county, Independent of the 25th says: Rine & Henderson have a band of 200 sheep which they sheared last week. From a three month's clip they got 5,569 pounds of wool.

Herbert Bont, a son of William Bont, a former postmaster and Justice of the Peace of Silver City, committed suicide in Oakland last Tuesday evening.

J. C. Cutting, who owns 9600 sheep at Spooner's and Pine Nut, cut 57,000 pounds of wool this year. This is said to be the largest wool clip ever made in this State.

Miners working for wages about Leadville get $3, and carpenters get $3.50, board themselves. Other mechanics' pay is about the same. In most mines, wages are from $3.50 to $4 per day, and as the altitude is about 10,000 feet, the mines are very cold. The price of board is about $6 per week, without lodging. Lodging accommodations are very poor.

Chess With Living Men.

On Thursday evening, in San Francisco, an interesting feature of the Authors' Carnival was the chess tournament played with human pieces. A large stand had been constructed on the center of the floor. Squares of white and black were marked off as on the ordinary chess boards. The pieces were selected from the actors and actresses of the booths. The red pawns were personated by red Indians, and the white by members of Company F, Second Regiment, N. O. C. J. R. Scupham played the red and Joseph B. Redding the white. The latter won.

Owing to some trouble growing out of some mutual misunderstanding, she procured a divorce from Mr. Dougherty, and subsequently married Mr. Barlow, from whom she was also divorced. A CHICKEN STEALING STORY.

How Dr. Cord Got Away With Tom Fitch's Chickens.

Washoe City was a very lively camp in 1866. Among its well known citizens at that time were Dr. Cord and Tom Fitch, the silver tongued. Cord was inordinately fond of chickens, and was not particular as to how he got them. Although a man of honor and a gentleman he would steal chickens. Chicken stealing was a kind of sport with him, and he looked upon chickens as much legitimate game as any other birds. The "boys" all used to get the benefit of Cord's captive chickens, and used often to lend the Dr. a hand in the sport. Tom Fitch was very fond of chickens, also, but was indiscreet enough to try to raise them, instead of lowering them after the fashion of Dr. Cord and his partners in guilt. Fitch frequently had chickens stolen, but attributed the thefts to Chinamen. His silver tongue would vibrate with eloquent invectives when he found that some midnight marauder had invaded his hen house and carried away his finest chickens.

One day Fitch determined to give the thieves a lesson. So he loaded up a gun, putting in a heavy charge of coarse salt in place of shot. Then he fastened the gun in the hen house and connected its trigger to the door by a string, so that should try to enter he would be well salted in the attempt. He also tied a string from the door to his bedroom, where he fastened the other end to a bell that would ring on the slightest pull. That evening Fitch had some company at his house, among whom was Dr. Cord. Fitch explained to them all, with great glee, what a fine trap he had laid for the chicken thieves. Dr. Cord was greatly interested, and sympathized deeply with Fitch in his losses.

When the party broke up, Dr. Cord was the last to leave. Going quietly to the hen house, he cut the strings leading to the bell and to the gun. He then quietly possessed himself of six of the best chickens, dispatching them neatly on the spot in his thoroughly professional way. When Fitch went out to examine his trap the next morning, his rage can be imagined when he saw how he had been outwitted. Two days afterwards, the boys had a fine chicken dinner, to which Fitch was invited. He went, and unsuspectingly ate of his own birds, but did not learn until long afterwards where they came from.

CHINESE WASH HOUSE

An Ordinance Needed—A Case in Point.

A GAZETTE reporter is informed that a lot owned by Mrs. Hall on Front street, between West and Sierra, has been rented to Chinamen as a site for a laundry. The lot is on the river front, between the two ditches, next to the house of B. E. Hunter, and near the school house. There is no laundry near that spot now, and should one be put up there, it will seriously affect the value of property in the neighborhood. If erected, it will probably be condemned as a nuisance by the County Commissioners.

An ordinance in relation to Chinese wash houses, similar to that passed in San Francisco, seems to be needed here. In San Francisco, no Chinese laundry can be opened in a block without the consent of a majority of all the occupants thereof. Such a regulation would prevent these wash houses from scattering over all the town. Experience has proved that these Chinese laundries are apt to take fire, and on that ground at least, the authorities have a right to confine them to certain limits.

An Indian Badly Cut Up.

One day last week a Chinaman was assaulted on the Glendale road near town by two Indians. He had a bottle of liquor with him, and meeting the two Indians they attempted to take it away from him. He resisted, and in the scuffle received several bad cuts with a knife. The Indians secured the bottle and fled with it. Some one brought the wounded man to town, and he has been under the care of a doctor ever since. No complaint was lodged with the authorities, and nothing has been done about the matter. The Chinaman is now recovering from his wounds and may be able to identify the guilty Indians, should he see them again. The Indians hate the Chinese, and will assault them for very slight cause when a good opportunity offers.

LUMBERING IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Timber Cutting Back of Washoe City—The H. & M. Flume—Operations at Overton on Tahoe—Life Among The Pines.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Should any of our old time neighbors pass here their first question would be, What has become of the vast forests of timber surrounding Franktown, Little Bangor, Ophir and Washoe? For years has this vast slaughtering of timber been carried on until now scarcely a tree remains. The H. & M. Flume is still bringing wood cut from the foothills. They have exhausted everything in the shape of wood on the Summit and in Little Valley, and are now cleaning the foothills back of Doll's ranch. They also have a new mill at the north-east end of Lake Tahoe, near Overton Bay (christened Overton Bay by McRae and Fitzpatrick's employees), which is very large. They also call that Overton mill. It has a cutting capacity of 75,000 feet of lumber per day. They have a wagon road in progress, from Mill Station to their mill, which will soon be completed. Dawson McRae is Road Supervisor, and has twenty men at work in order to take advantage of the nice weather we are now having.

CAMP LIFE IN THE WOODS.

This will be a pleasant summer drive for parties of tourists contemplating a week or two's experience of camp life at or near Tahoe Lake. They can visit Marietta Lake, the Water Company's tunnel, and a large wood, lumber and logging camp in full blast. Fishing is also good in season in Overton Bay. On the west side of the Summit the timber is beautiful, of the finest quality, and reminds one of old Michigan and Wisconsin. They have several million feet of lumber and about 200,000 cords of wood to cut, which will be brought up an incline tramway to a higher point and flamed from thence through the Water Company's tunnel to Lake View to the V. & T. R. R. at that point.

AN IMMENSE LUMBER BUSINESS.

They have a million feet of lumber already at the mill to construct the proper flumes, etc., for the purpose. They have 75 white men and 200 Chinamen employed on the other and thirty white men on this side of the mountain. All who come this way, on meeting D. McRae or William Fitzpatrick, the contractors for cutting said wood, will meet with a hearty welcome. Stop work a day or two and go see what they are doing west of us, and you will consider it time well spent. They have telephonic communication from Virginia to all their principal camps and water stations, and Capt. Overton, when there, seems delighted to show all and every person the mysteries of the telephone. Next time, I will write up the agricultural interests of Washoe Valley.

FRANKTOWN, NOV. 1.

The Lake House Robbed.

The office of the Lake House was entered and robbed in a daring fashion about three o'clock yesterday morning. The night clerk left the office to show a stranger to his room on the third floor of the house, and on returning to the office found the cash drawer missing. It had been pried from its fastenings under the bar, and carried away. The act must have been done by some one on the watch to steal, as the clerk was not absent from the office more than five minutes. A few minutes before the theft was committed he took about $40 from the drawer and placed it in the safe. The robber got only about $3 in change and a small pistol that was in the drawer. The drawer was found on the opposite side of the river a few hours later.

I Wish Everybody to Know.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen of this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E. Church, just this moment stopped in our store to say, "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." It is having a tremendous sale over our counters and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of Lung Disease, such as nothing else has done. Benfro, Ind., May 15, 1878. Drs. Matchett & France. FLUCTUATIONS IN MILK.

Dishonorable Drafts Upon the Udder of the Golden Eagle Hotel Cow—The Story and Its Sequel.

Mr. Barnes, the proprietor of the Golden Eagle Hotel, had long suspected that some one was in the habit of milking his cow at night. The yield of milk from his cow of mornings was subject to astonishing variations that could be accounted for only on the supposition that the animal was surreptitiously drained of the lacteal fluid during the silent hours of the night. Mr. Barnes, being a patient and long suffering man, submitted to the occasional losses of milk with a truly christian spirit. Having an excellent well of water on his premises, he could easily supply any deficiency of that sort, although he never availed himself of that resource in time of need.

At times Mr. Barnes was inclined to think that the cow was subject to fits of obstinacy, inducing her to sometimes refrain from secreting a full supply of milk, with a view to obtaining some improvement in her feed. Yet still, while consuming superior provender, the flow of milk would at times fall much below the average, so that her owner was obliged to fall back upon his original theory of midnight appropriations.

Of late Mr. Barnes has sustained such frequent lacteal losses that he determined to endure the thefts no longer, and to set a trap for the thief. So, on Saturday evening he fastened a loaded pistol in his barn, with the muzzle pointed to the roof, and connected the trigger by a string with the barn door. It was fixed in such a way that the piece would be discharged when the door was opened.

Having effected these arrangements, Mr. Barnes retired to sleep with a peaceful smile upon his lips. About two o'clock in the morning the inmates of his hotel were aroused from their slumbers by the report of the pistol. Rushing to the window, one of them saw, by the light of the full moon shining overhead, a man leaping the fences and fleeing up the alley as if milk had lost all charms for him and life depended on his speed.

Mr. Barnes and his cow will doubtless hereafter sleep in peace, undisturbed by the dread of midnight visitors.

LORN LOVELOCKS.

The Grant Enthusiasm—The Fan Over The Preparations—Large Crop in a Bad Year.

From our own Correspondent.

We are a patriotic community, and to be compelled to bottle up our good feeling is rather hard. Then to think how we had planned, and then laid awake nights thinking of our plans. First it was proposed that the teachers assemble their pupils and throw them into a hollow square by the R.R. track. But it was thought that it would take too much time, as parents would have to be assured that the children would receive no permanent injury by the process. Then it was proposed to form them in line with some prominent citizen at the head of the column, and march toward the car singing:

"See the mighty host advancing, Satan leading on," etc.

But strange to say our prominent citizens were so modest or diffident they could not be induced to come forth. So that had to be given up also.

There are several pretty babies here and we were about to appoint a committee to wait on the mothers, and instruct them to have the cherubs ready to present their little bills to the Gen. By this time he must enjoy that kind of desert.

Another committee was to be appointed to get our brass band together. "Tis true there are but two left, the fife and drum, but after hearing these you would never ask for more.

We wanted also to find out the exact weight of young Grant. This is a very important item, and would have received proper attention had the opportunity been given us, but alas! the train went by with a whiz; and we were left out in the cold. One citizen raised a yell that would have done credit to a Mohawk, and then "All was quiet on the Potomac." The complaint here on all sides is, "Only half a crop." But Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tremble have no reason to complain. Their home is blest with twin babies, a boy and girl.

"Milking the Cow in the First Degree." Juries sometimes give very curious verdicts. One of the most remarkable was that found by a Washoe jury in 1867 in a case of milk stealing. The prisoner was tried on a charge of stealing milk from another man's cow. It was proved that he had frequently milked the animal at night, thereby causing his neighbor great vexation and annoyance. The jury, of whom Tule Frank was foreman, desired to express in their verdict their sense of the aggravated nature of the offense. They therefore found the prisoner "Guilty of milking the cow in the first degree."

Solid Abyssinian Gold Watch
FREE! FREE! FREE!!!

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible.
Since we first established our business here, March 1st, 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Jewelry and Auction lots of Jewels and Watches often buying at as low as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturer's price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could prepare them, and owing to the large number of failures among the Jeweler dealers and manufacturers throughout this and other countries during the months of June, July and August (the time when the Jewels business is stagnant), we have now on hand an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new ones which we shall continue to buy, we have at upon the following novel plan:
We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, giving opposite each article its regular retail value, and sell to you at the rate of Five Dollars for every $100.
For instance, on receipt of $20 cts. we will send you, postpaid, any article to the value of $20 on receipt of $1, article to the value of $5, and so on throughout the entire list.
Below we give a list of the most valuable of these goods.

line, than to give them a trial."

and responsible, and consequently, we think need have no hesitation about sending for what they desire."

Messrs. James S. Taylor & Co., 116

make better results with one teaspoonful to a quart of flour with your Champagne Baking Powder than with three teaspoonfuls of any other I have ever used. If there is a yeast powder anywhere in the world equal to it, I have never seen or heard of it. As a baker I pronounce this powder simply perfection.
